18 Per Cent of San Quentin's Population Reported Illiterate

By the United Press

Post graduates of a world-wide, if sinister, university forming an important portion of San Quentin's sequestered population are beginning to climb a new and sounder educational ladder and are learning to read and write.

Though they may be literate of the underworld and doctors of literature in the argot of thieves, 18 per cent of men received in the state's gloomy house of correction for first offenders can neither write nor read the English language, Director of Education Vierling Kersey disclosed today in announcing additional plans for their educational improvement, 30% illiterate.

Declaring that no state can reasonably expect to reclaim its good citizens or law-abiding residents men who are not equipped to play their part in the swift drama of competitive life of today, Kersey revealed that enrollment in classes now conducted at the penitentiary total 1,380, while 1,186 are receiving scholastic aid by means of correspondence.

Thirty per cent of 884 inmates tested upon arrival at San Quentin since March 23 this year, are illiterates, Kersey explained. In addition to 194 who lacked knowledge of reading and writing, 230 others have received only a fifth grade education or less.

The bulk of enrollments for classes which the Department of Education supervises are for vocational training. Of the 1,380 now in the penitentiary school, 533 are equipping themselves for useful trades, 401 are pursuing academic studies, 137 are taking commercial courses, 83 are studying to be farmers and 98 are taking music. Numbered in the group are 57 women.

While it is true that a considerable number of inmates lacking knowledge of written and printed English are able to read and write in some foreign language, this proficiency can be of little value to them once they breathe free air again," said Kersey. Some of course, upon release, will be returned to lands of their birth. Those who remain in the United States, however, should be given every opportunity to fit themselves for usefulness in lawful channels of industry.

Smith Market On Saturday Morn

A. C. Smith, Popular Butcher, To Operate Independent Market On Cash Basis

Smith's Market—an independent market conducted on a strictly cash basis—will open Saturday in a store vacated this week by the MacMarr Stores on Sartori avenue opposite Woolworth's store.

A. C. Smith, the proprietor of the new market, has been a resident of Torrance for the past two years, acting recently as the manager of the MacMarr Sartori avenue store. Mr. and Mrs. Smith have a host of friends in this community and it was through the encouragement given him by these friends that Mr. Smith decided to enter into the food marketing for himself.

"I have made an exceptionally fine buying connection through Los Angeles friendships and I feel that I can successfully compete with any store in Torrance," said Mr. Smith this week.

Painters have been busy this week re-decorating the building and everything will be in readiness for the opening Saturday morning. An enticing assortment of Opening Day Bargains is being arranged for Saturday, but the exact items and prices were not available in time to be advertised in this week's Torrance Herald.

Kiwanis Delegates Are Selected Here

Three delegates and three alternates to the Kiwanis district convention at Pasadena, November 4, 5 and 6, were selected by the local service club Monday evening.

Delegates are C. T. Rippey, district trustee; John Holm and James Leach. The alternates are Frank Steinhilber, Charles Shultz and Sam Rappaport, president of the Torrance club.

"California" (In Full) On Auto Plates

When the Californian goes (traveling) next year in his motor car there will be no mistake about where he comes from for the name of his home state will be spelled out in big letters across the bottom of his license plate. Plates for this and some previous years bear the abbreviation "Calif" or "Cal." But after conference between Daniel J. O'Brien, director of motor vehicles; Russell Bevans, registrar of vehicles; Roland A. Vandevitt, director of finance and others, it was decided to spell the word California out because of its advertising value.

The numerals 49 will appear in the lower left hand corner and 32 in the lower right. The word California will appear between them. Plates for 1932 will be 13-7-8 inches long and 6-1-8 inches wide, the same as this year, and will be made of 24-gauge steel to give them strength.

Script letters will be used 3-1/4 inches high and 1-1/2 inches wide. An inverted bead will run around the edge. The new plates will have a dull orange background and letters and numerals will be black. These are the same colors as this year except that they are reversed. Repeated tests have demonstrated that this combination of colors affords the greatest degree of visibility and thereby lessens the chance for the "hit and run" driver to escape.

RENO, Nev.—(U.P.)—So little chance was there to make whoopie in the county jail here that prisoners signed Sheriff Russell Trathen for permission to rent a radio.

DAUGHTER GETS BLAME
STOCKTON—(U.P.)—Heeding safety rules Mrs. W. Zuber went to the back yard to wash some clothing in gasoline. She carried the dripping apparel back in the house. Her daughter struck a match. The fire department arrived in time.

GOOD PLACE FOR 'EM
LOS ANGELES—(U.P.)—Three gangland suspects had been arrested. A safe was found in their room. Two detectives waited expectantly as a police safe expert worked on the combination. Finally the door swung open, the expert reached in and drew out the contents of the safe. Two rusty razor blades.

BUILDERS OF CALIFORNIA

The Green chariot wins! Or perhaps the Blue, the Red, or the White. For each racing chariot was painted one of these colors, which symbolized the four Roman political parties.

Today, crude Roman paints would be useless. Modern paints, put to countless uses in home and industry, are the result of science and research.

California's paint manufacturers, famed for quality products, expend over $1,800,000 in yearly wages; buy 14 million dollars of raw materials every year.
